A close-up photograph of a person's hands and feet. The person is wearing blue denim jeans and dark-colored sneakers with vibrant, multi-colored laces in shades of yellow, green, blue, and pink. The person's hands are resting on their lap, and the background is softly blurred, suggesting an indoor setting.

How can we best engage with disengaged children and young people?

The reasons for disengagement are often complex and this conference brings together key experts and inspiring speakers who will help to increase your understanding, provide you with practical information, ideas and strategies and explore how we can best engage effectively with the toughest students, at risk kids, struggling students and 'drop outs' in education and into employment. We can assure you of a fantastic learning day with plenty of opportunity to network and gain educational resources too!

Who Should Attend?

The conference should be of interest to a range of professionals including: teachers, head teachers, school counsellors, school support staff, college/university staff and leaders, social workers and others from social care settings, youth workers, voluntary and charity organisations, local authority staff and leaders, other professionals interested in young people's mental health and wellbeing (eg youth justice, police, sports etc)
